Present Their Views

The reorganized Liquor Licens Board held its first meeting yesterday afternoon in the Thorne Room of the Capitol Building and heard the liquor situation discussed from both sides, John G. Wooley appearing for the Anti-Saloon League and Attorney E. C. Peters representing the Wholesale Liquor Dealers' Association. R. J. Buchly of Peacock &

Co. also spoke for the wholesalers. Mr. Wooley told the Board that it is dealing with a dangerous business, which is an acknowledged peril to the public, and warned the members that they ought to be careful. He objected to any retail license being granted to a wholesaler, on the ground that a retailer should devote his whole time to his business and give it his personal attention.

The representative of the Anti-Saloon League also said he did not believe any rectifier should have a retail license, adding that he had been told that liquor of very poor quality is being sold in Honolulu.

R. J. Buchly denied that the rectifiers have anything to do with this, stating that the rectification of ilouers is under the full control of the United States Internal Revenue men.

Woolley also took a fall out of the retailers who hold licenses eneither be wiped out altogether or should be greatly curtailed. Any man who violates the provisions of his license should have it revoked at loon near the Leilehua camp was also objected to vigorously by Mr. such a license would be to abet the evasion of the anti-canteen law.

Speaking for the wholesalers, E. C. Peters declared that they anxious to co-operate with the commission in the enforcement of the law, and said it would be very much to their advantage to have the regulations of the Board enforced vigor-county engineer and road commissions is beginning to assume great proportions. The Supervisors will each and every one of them call meetings in their districts to consider the matter, and incidentally action has been staved off for another month, the County Fathers requiring that time in which to feel he public pulse on their own hook.

That the Supervisors expect that the meetings which they themselves tion. will call will turn the entire proposition down, may be surmised.
